

GASTROINTESTINAL MALIGNANCIES

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:

This one-day program will focus on current and emerging treatment options for patients with Gastrointestinal Malignancies. Topics will include:

- An Overview of Esophageal Cancer
- Long Term Side Effects/ Management Issues of Esophageal Cancer
- Future Directions in Colorectal Cancer
- Risk Assessment in Familial GI Malignancies
- Controversies in Treating Hepatocellular Cancer
- Pancreatic Cancer Update
- What's New in Interventional GI Therapy

---

DATE: June 7, 2005
TIME: 8:00 A.M.-4:00 P.M.
LOCATION: Conference Center Auditorium, Fox Chase Cancer Center

---

WHO SHOULD ATTEND:

The course is designed for nurses and other health care professionals who work with cancer patients in a variety of health care settings:

PLANNING COMMITTEE:

Ann Pellegrino, MSN, CRNP, OCN, Nurse Practitioner, GI Medical Oncology, FCCC

Linda Schiech, MSN, RN, AOCN Clinical Nurse Specialist, FCCC

Margot Sweed, MSN, CRNP, Nurse Practitioner, GI Medical Oncology GI Tumor, FCCC

Joan Wagner, MSN RN CRNP, Coordinator, Department of Continuing Nursing Education, FCCC

CONTACT HOURS 7.8

FEE: $120

Supported by an educational Grant from

ROCHE

WATCH FOR FURTHER DETAILS
IN A SUPPLEMENTAL MAILING